RED CROSS LOCATE LOST RELATIVE OF MRS. J. JACOBSON

Flood Sufferers are Found Within 48 Hours Of Inquiry

This week Antioch people had evidence of the efficiency and promptness of the Red Cross in dealing with the flood emergency when Mrs. Jacobson of this community was advised of the whereabouts of her father and mother, two brothers who were with them and a third brother and his wife and family, all within 48 hours after the inquiry was received by the Red Cross Headquarters operating in the flood area.

Mrs. Jacobson's mother, father, and two brothers had not been heard from for six weeks and the town in which they lived, Watson, Arkansas, was reported under 12 feet of water. She had had word from a sister in Mississippi that her brother, George Smith, also of Watson, Arkansas, had been left behind by the U. S. ship engaged in rescuing refugees and that he had not been heard from.

Rev. A. M. Krahl got into communication with the Department Headquarters operating in the flood area and within forty-eight hours after the inquiry had reached its destination he had the following reply:

Lake Providence, La.
Rev. A. M. Krahl,
Antioch, Ill.

George Smith located by me with his family. Well and happy at Watson, Arkansas. William Henry Smith, wife and two sons on farm at Alsatia, Louisiana.

J. M. Hamley,
Chairman, Red Cross.

Former Antioch Boy is With Marines in China

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kauf of Grayslake that their son, Lieut. John Kauf, has arrived safely at Shanghai, China. Lieutenant Kauf who is 1st Lieutenant attached to the 6th Regiment of Marines, left Quantico, Virginia, where he is stationed, about the first of May and, proceeding overland, embarked from San Diego for China on the marine transport ship, the Henderson.

Lt. Kauf is an Antioch boy. He enlisted in the service here in 1917 and has been in the marine service ever since. Mrs. Kauf will remain at Quantico for the present.

Paving on Lake Street Progressing Rapidly

Construction on the paving of Lake street is progressing rapidly this week under the direction of Darrow and Barron, Waukegan contractors. Lake street has been closed to traffic from Victoria street west for the past week and work is being hurried to completion in order that the street may be opened to traffic as soon as possible.

Surveying operations have also been begun on Victoria street, preparatory to paving.

Antioch News Fund Reaches New Total

The Antioch News fund as reported last week, consisting of donations received at this office and the proceeds of the benefit dance held at the Antioch Palace recently, amounted to $396.35. There is still a tremendous amount of rescue and rehabilitation work to be done and all who have not yet given are urged to do so.

Mrs. Jennie Lynch recently was winner of the grand prize given to the individual selling the greatest number of subscriptions to the Herald and Examiner. Mrs. Lynch has been at work on the contest since Feb. 10th. The award was a Dodge de Luxe sedan.

1927 to Be Year of Great Building for Antioch and Lake Region

Antioch and vicinity are the scene of much building activity this season. The inclemency of the weather has retarded work to a certain extent but much summer resort property is being prepared for June occupancy and several permanent residences are already under way.

Nearly every lake and subdivision in the scene of some building activity. At Lake Catherine, Dr. Warner is putting up a new summer cottage, and extensive repairs are being made on the Fitzgerald properties by contractor Vincent Dupre. In the Felter subdivision, Virgil Felter is erecting a new home for his own occupancy.

The California Ice subdivision on Lake Marie is also the scene of much activity. Robert Preiss, a Chicago man, is erecting a residence there and several others are under way or projected. Most of the building reported from the region of Lakes Marie, Catherine and Channel is for permanent occupancy.

Cepka's subdivision north of Antioch is being improved by the erection of a group of summer cottages under the supervision of a Chicago firm, the James A. Annas Company. The Sobaski home, now under construction, will be used as a permanent residence and completely equipped with modern conveniences.

Frank Karpow has purchased the Kelly barn building and is remodeling it into a modern home.

Probably the greatest activity is at Loon Lake, the scene of the recent tornado. Fred Wolf has his cottage completely enclosed and expects to complete the interior work within a short time. Besides the Wolf cottage, extensive building, remodeling and repairing is going on all over the lake shore.

In the village of Antioch two new residences are being built, the Nick Baker cottage and the new $12,000 home of Mrs. Anna Kelly, both being erected on North Main. Much minor repairing and building is being reported in the community. Mrs. George Webb has just added a sun parlor and is now having it repainted and redecorated.

It became known this week that the new home to be built for Anton Cermak at Channel Lake had been let to J. E. Sibley and Son of Antioch at a price in excess of $60,000. The Sylvan Beach hotel which stood on the site of the new residence is being wrecked to make way for the new edifice, construction of which will be begun at once.

It is estimated that a score of homes and more than fifty summer cottages are now under construction and that double that number will be built before the season is ended.

ANTIOCH WINS OVER WAUKEGAN PLAYERS IN SHUT-OUT GAME

Pitching of W. Steininger Is Feature of Last Sunday's Game

In a game featured by the pitching of Steininger of Antioch, the local team shut out the Waukegan Cardinals Sunday with a 9 to 0 score.

Fourteen strike-outs and only 1 hit set a record in pitching not reached before this season. Sullivan starred at bat, hitting two doubles, one triple and getting base on balls once. Simpson, Hardin, W. Steininger and A. Steininger each chalked up two hits to their credit. The fielding of Hardin and Hostetter proved another one of the sensations of a game in which the locals showed up better than in any game thus far played.

Next Sunday the locals will play the Cosover Boosters at Antioch. The Boosters are a strong aggregation and are now in second place.

Poppy Day Sale Nets Nice Sum for Legion Fund

The sale of poppies on last Saturday, National American Legion Poppy Day, netted the organization $70. Considering the fact that 500 poppies were all there were available for local sales Legion officials express themselves as being gratified with the amount contributed and the response with which their appeal was met. It was estimated that twice as many poppies as were sold could have been disposed of easily had the local post had them.

Proceeds of the sale form a fund with which the legion maintains a Service department for the aid of needy veterans and needy widows and orphans of veterans. The room formerly used as a repair room is now devoted to the storage and display of used cars. "We are now ready," said Mr. Middendorf, of the Motor Sales company, "with the best of mechanics and mechanical conveniences to do any kind of repairing quickly and well."

LOCAL FIRM MOVES INTO NEW BUILDING

Antioch Motor Company Establishes Storage and Repair Department In New Structure

The Antioch Motor Sales company have recently occupied their new building just back of their salesroom on Main street. The building extends across three lots west of the sales building. It is built of brick with a Mester steel arch roof and is equipped with a modern heating plant. It is 55 by 100 feet in size and covers a floor space of 11,000 feet. The cost of the lots and construction was in excess of $12,000. John Dupre of Antioch was the contractor.

The firm have moved their repair department into the building and will use the remaining floor space for storage. About 150 cars can be accommodated at one time. Erection of the new garage was made necessary by expansion in the business of the Antioch Motor Sales company. The room formerly used as a repair room is now devoted to the storage and display of used cars. "We are now ready," said Mr. Middendorf, of the Motor Sales company, "with the best of mechanics and mechanical conveniences to do any kind of repairing quickly and well."

Meadames Eugene Hawkins, H. F. Beebe, Leo Middendorf and Chancy Barber of Chetek spent Wednesday at Crystal Lake and Waukegan.

Mrs. Clara Willett was in Chicago on Tuesday.

H. S. COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES TO BE HELD JUNE 5 AND 6

Twenty-five Seniors Will Be Awarded Diplomas Monday Evening

Closing exercises of the Antioch Township High School will take place next week. Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday evening and commencement exercises will be held Monday evening.

Baccalaureate services are to be held at the high school on Sunday June 5th, at 8:30 o'clock daylight saving time. Rev. A. M. Krahl will give the address to the graduates and the high school chorus will sing the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah."

Commencement exercises will take place at the high school Monday evening, June 6, at 8:30 o'clock daylight saving time. The speaker of the occasion will be Dean Wm. Alderman, of Beloit College, Beloit, Wisconsin. Music will be furnished by the two high school glee clubs and the orchestra.

A class of twenty-five will receive diplomas at this time. They are: Robert Lee Alvers, Louis Richard Forbich, Emil Ferdinand Hallwas, Irma Dorothy Hanke, Ruth Florence Hanke, Mary Bernice Herman, Shirley Marie Hollenbeck, Richard H. Kennedy, Robert K. Morley, Clara Laura Michell, Lester Franklin Nixon, Stephen Peter Pacini, Glenna Elizabeth Roberts, Arnold William Shunnesson, Anna Marion Sorenson, Paul Joseph Thompson, Edmee Milled Warner, and Hilma Angela Hosing, all of Antioch; Donald Frank Cremin of Grayslake, William Elmer Barthel of Salem, Wisconsin, Lena Mae Sebora, William Thomas Schwenk, Arthur Philip Simpson, Robert William Wilson, and Earl Baumgartner, all of Lake Villa.

DAIRYMEN PROTEST LOSS OF MARKET

Will Meet in Elgin to Take Action Against Loss of Chicago Milk Trade

A mass meeting of Dairymen of the Chicago Dairy District is called for Tuesday, June 7, 1927, in the Legion hall, Elgin at 11:00 o'clock a. m. for the purpose of discussing the subject "Shall the Chicago District Dairymen Surrender the Chicago Market to Outside Producers?"

Milk is now being shipped into the Chicago Market from very long distances and from many states, Minnesota, Iowa, Michigan, Upper Wisconsin, Lower Indiana, Central Illinois, and many other outside points supplanting the milk of the Chicago Dairy District (Northeastern Illinois, Southern Wisconsin and Northern Indiana.)

The drastic order of the health commissioner of Chicago, demanding milk from tuberculin tested herds on very short notice drove dealers into the four points of the compass for their supply.

The shortage of funds for paying indemnity, and the shortage of qualified veterinarians, made the testing of herds in the Chicago district very slow.

A year and a half has so brought about the cleaning up of herds of the district that the supply of milk in the district is nearly normal.

The dealers, having gained the upper hand, because of reasons stated above, are using their power to the great disadvantage of the inner district dairymen, through price cutting, drastic conditions and in many other ways, accepting milk in other districts under any and all conditions, but penalizing our home dairymen. They are paying better prices in these outer districts, and cutting the inner district men to balance the account.

The New York Milk Shed District is facing very much the same condition but are centralizing their dairy forces to fight to prevent the killing of this, the original source of New York's supply, and are being supported by Commissioner of Health Harris.

"If New York can fight to save her district we can," says a prominent milk producers official. "If

Hadlick Bond Fixed at $2000 by Judge Persons

In a preliminary hearing held last Thursday afternoon before Judge Tarbell, Curtis Hadlick of Highwood pleaded not guilty to a charge of transporting liquor and was bound over to the county court. Judge Persons of that court fixed the bond at $2,000 which was furnished.

The suit arose from an accident which occurred on the corner of Main and Maple streets last Wednesday evening. Hadlick who was driving, collided with a car belonging to R. C. Abt of this place, and driven by his son. After the accident, it was claimed that members of the Hadlick party attempted to conceal the fact that a suitcase containing several bottles of liquor was in their possession.

Hadlick was silent at the hearing but explained to friends that he was merely taking the liquor to some friends in Highwood.

COMMUNITY HONORS NATION'S DEAD WITH MEMORIAL SERVICES

Two Veterans of the Grand Army are Present to Pay Tribute

Memorial Day services were held last Monday under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion and the Daughters of the G. A. R. The parade formed at the grade school house at 2:30. Members of the Legion, D. of G. A. R. and school children led by the Allendale Boy's band, under the direction of Capt. Stewart, and followed by a procession of cars proceeded to Hillside cemetery where the services were held.

A. J. Felter and Joseph Haycock, two of the three living members of the Grand Army were present at the ceremony. The third number, Homer Stevens, was in Waukegan in attendance at a family reunion and was unable to be present.

Following invocation by the Rev. H. C. Dixon, a mixed quartet composed of Miss Helen Hauck and Mrs. George Garland, and the Messrs. O. Bright and S. E. Pollock sang the old civil war songs. Short talks were made by Rev. A. M. Krahl and Father Lynch. The address of the day was delivered by Robert C. Guille, commander of the Eighth District of the American Legion.

Following the program the salute in honor of the warrior dead was fired and taps were blown and the line of march proceeded to the post headquarters and disbanded.

Traffic Control Gets Favorable Comment

Although the traffic on Main street was very congested no serious accidents occurred within the village limits over the week end. Starting Saturday noon cars thronged the streets in a never ending procession all day and until late in the evening on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. Residents who have observed the traffic conditions here over a period of years, as well as many visitors were heard to comment on the smoothness with which it was handled. It was felt by everyone that this was due to a very great extent to motorcycle cop Frank Valenta, who was on duty throughout the period.

He was united in marriage to Miss Minnie Seltzer, February 26, 1878. To them four children were born: one son, Charles of this place; and three daughters, Mrs. W. A. Taylor of Waukegan, Mrs. Bertha Overton, and Miss Pearl Lux of Chicago, who, with the mother, are left to mourn his departure. He is also survived by three brothers: Nicholas, Edward and John, all of Waukegan, and sisters, Mrs. Helen Peterson of Waukegan, Mrs. Matilda Doyle of Waukegan, and Carrie Higley of Bucanan, Mich.

The deceased was a well known resident of this community, having lived in this village for the past twenty-six years. He was always keenly interested in the affairs of the village and for several years served as village trustee. For a number of years he conducted the hotel now known as the Edgar House and during that time was closely associated with the business interests of the town. He was a patient sufferer for many months and his departure will be mourned by a wide circle of relatives and friends.

The funeral services will be held at the home Friday afternoon at one o'clock standard time (two o'clock daylight saving.)

Do Good Business In Spite of Weather

Although the inclemency of the weather on Saturday and Sunday undoubtedly prevented thousands of people, who otherwise would have done so, from visiting the lake region over Memorial Day, Antioch and vicinity was thronged with visitors on Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Lake resorts, restaurants, hotels, dance pavilions and subdivisions headquarters reported good patronage and highway travel around Antioch was unusually congested. Most of the summer residents were on hand opening up their cottages, inaugurating their spring clean-up, planting gardens and beautifying their summer homes.

Richard Mack reported the season's greatest crowd at the Antioch Palace on Saturday night when over a thousand more admissions were sold than on the opening night, April 23, when nearly four thousand persons visited the mammoth recreation auditorium.

Flyer Entertains Crowd
Vernon Ramsey, Waukegan aviator, arrived Sunday afternoon at the flying field near Antioch Palace and seemed to be doing a good business Sunday afternoon and also the afternoon of Memorial Day carrying passengers in his new Curtiss plane on sight-seeing trips over the lake country. The parachute jumper who had agreed to come here with Ramsey for the day failed to keep his promise and Mr. Ramsey drove to Chicago Monday morning where he engaged the services of an aerial acrobat at the Checkerboard field. The acrobat stunted around the landing gear of the plane and on a rope ladder, but failed to bring a parachute for the jump.

Pilot Ramsey will operate his plane here for passenger carrying service and student training during the summer months, he has announced.

FUNERAL RITES FOR CHAS. LUX, SR., WILL BE HELD FRIDAY

Octogenarian Died Wednesday—Was Born in New York in 1843

Chas. Lux Sr. died at his home in Antioch Wednesday morning, June 1, 1927, after an illness extending over a period of four years, during which time he was a great sufferer.

Mr. Lux was born in Buffalo, N. Y., July 11, 1843. He came to Illinois when about ten years of age and, with the family, settled near Waukegan where

BURIED 24 ALIVE;
STOPS RELIGIOUS
RITE REPETITION*Member of Fanatic Russian
Sect Helps Soviet Census Takers With Devotees.

Uzbekistan, Russia.—A religious fanatic who buried twenty-four people alive at their own request when Czar Nicholas II conducted the last national census in 1897 worked energetically with the soviet authorities in the census just completed to prevent a repetition of his horrible act of forty years ago.

The fanatic was one of a religious colony located here, called the Starobriadze. There were twenty-five members of the sect when the czar's census takers came. The Starobriadze, in a panic, thought the officials were the heralds of the anti-Christ and elected to die rather than submit to the census. According to their wild creed, they chose to be buried alive. But they found that they could not bury themselves.

Buries 24 Alive.

They drew lots to determine which of them should bury the rest and himself remain alive to risk the anti-Christ danger. The choice fell on a young zealot with a wife and two children. In spite of his protests, the others assured him that he would win such heavenly favor by saving his co-religionists that he himself would be saved, though still alive.

Chanting weird songs, intoning prayers and carrying lighted candles, the twenty-four fanatics descended into a cellar where the protesting twenty-fifth built a solid wall around them, cemented it and hopped it with earth.

Built a Solid Wall Around Them.

The sound of their shelling continued in the vault for some time, while the sole remaining fanatic listened and prayed. In the tomb were his own wife and two children.

News of the horror spread and the man who had buried the others was arrested and sentenced to spend his life in the Greek Orthodox monastery at Surdal. The sect, however, was revived and the soviet officials recalled him from the monastic exile to help prevent a repetition of the incident when the census takers came last month. In this he was successful and the devotees submitted to the census reading.

Boy Just Grins as He Faces More Operations

Kansas City, Mo.—The outlook of more operations, more days in a hospital and more suffering, through which Norman Stauder, thirteen years old, must pass before he will be able to go to college, does not break the intrepid spirit of the boy, who now lies at Bethany hospital with a tube in his brain.

Physicians declare that before he can be pronounced cured an operation must be performed, taking a part of a rib from his body and grafting it in the hole in his skull. Several other operations may be necessary to remove a growth on his brain that developed from the injury received March 23, 1926, when he was struck by a ten-pound shot.

Asked if he feared more operations, Norman grunted again.

"Say, I ain't afraid. When they come in here to dress my wound they try to keep me from looking at it in the mirror of the dresser. But I look anyhow and it does not scare me a bit. If you come around here about noon tomorrow—no, day after tomorrow, you can see for yourself. They will dress the wound then."

Freight Train Runs IntoTruck Load of Dynamite

Tokyo.—A freight train running near Fukuoka recently smashed into a truck trying to beat the train at a crossing, the truck being loaded with twenty cases of dynamite. The explosion threw the locomotive and thirteen cars from the track, scattered bits of the track driver and his assistant over the landscape, seriously wounded the engine driver and his assistant and broke all the glass in twenty nearby houses.

Jilted Girl Refuses to Wed Suitor, Jailed
Philadelphia.—Arrested on a warrant charging breach of promise, Bernice Laboue, a widow, though a new proposal of marriage to Miss Antoinette Plumpnella, an orphan, would satisfy the girl. But it didn't.
"I am willing to marry her," said Laboue when arraigned before Magistrate Frank J. Clark at Norristown. "I want to provide a home for her."
Miss Plumpnella, a former telephone operator, testified Laboue cast her off after taking her to his home.
"I won't marry him," she said. "He was ugly to me, and I'm afraid of him. After he forced me to leave his home I wouldn't trust him."

LETS ROPE MANGLE
HAND TO SAVE MAN*Inexperienced Climber Proves Himself Hero.

Cape Town, South Africa.—Mountaineers here are lavish in their praise of "a magnificent act of courage" performed by an inexperienced climber, John Byng, while attempting to establish a new route up the face of Table Mountain, in company with Frank Cooke of Cape Town.

The two men were linked together by a rope. After they had ascended 1,000 feet Cooke, an experienced mountaineer, fell, but was saved from certain death by the bravery and resource of his companion, who had no previous experience in climbing.

Byng seized the rope by which he was linked to his friend and slipped it over a rock. He then placed his hand between the rope and the rock so that it should not act as a buffer and prevent the rope from fraying and snapping.

His hand was crushed and cut, but hour after hour he braved the pain and kept the rope in position. Cooke, who was suspended over a gorge hundreds of feet deep, was helpless, as his thigh had been broken by striking the cliff face.

By waving his handkerchief Byng drew the attention of a party of mountaineers, who went to the rescue. Rescuing Byng, who was on the point of collapse, they relieved him of the rope and set about the business of recovering Cooke.

Two rescuers descended to him with food and restoratives. They blindfolded him to save him the mental torture of being suspended in midair. Twenty-four hours later he was hauled, more dead than alive, to the cliff's summit.

Prefers Jail and Love to Freedom All Alone

Los Angeles, Calif.—A prison term rather than promise that she would cease associating with the man who is asserted to have contributed to her downfall was the decision of Miss Florence K. Patton, thirty-four years of age, until recently a trusted escrow clerk in a downtown bank and a worker in church circles.

Miss Patton had admitted two counts of an embezzlement charge involving $3,150. Her shortages at the bank are said to have covered a period of several months and she is asserted to have used the money and her influence to further the financial ends of her suitor.

But when she was asked if she would give her sweetheart up if she was granted her liberty, probation officers told Judge Elliot Craig, she refused to answer the question.

So Judge Craig sentenced her "for the period prescribed by law" or one to ten years on one of the embezzlement counts and put her on probation for seven years on the other count.

How Many Copies?

New York.—Anybody who wants to know all about "the Seven Pillars of Wisdom" must pay $20,000. It's a book by Col. Thomas Edward Lawrence, Englishman, "uncrowned king of Arabia." Ten copies were put on sale, but there were no buyers.

Silent Drill

Lawrence, Kan.—A National Guard troop of cavalry at Haskell Institute has a nifty ten-minute silent drill, going through 1,102 movements without command or signal. Members of 29 Indian tribes from 29 states are in the troop.

Girls Quit First

New York.—More girls than boys drop out of college, a survey at Columbia and Barnard shows. The principal reason for the difference is marriage, but more boys than girls quit because of inefficiency in studies.

Wreck Kills Nine

Calcutta, India.—Nine persons were killed and twenty injured when the Calcutta-Madras mail train collided with a freight train. The accident occurred at Bhadrank station, 180 miles from Calcutta.

Handle Much Coin

New York.—Exclusive of gold, 36 tons of metal money—about $1,000,000 worth—are handled daily at the federal bank, coming or going, under the watchful eyes of armed ex-marines. Quarters lead.

Paper From Cornstalks Promised by Professor

Ames, Iowa.—Corn belt farmers may soon be able to turn their cornstalks into money.

Paper can be made from the stalks, but this knowledge has done the corn grower no good because there has been no way found to harvest the stalks in quantities large enough to justify their substitution for wood pulp by the paper factories.

Now E. V. Collins, professor of agricultural engineering at Iowa State College, has devised a machine which he believes will do the work. It snaps the stalk off at the root, separates the stalk into one wagon and puts the stalk, after shredding it for baling, into another.

Peer of Trappers Gets 15,600 Pests as Catch

Salt Lake City, Utah.—For eleven days Roy Mussalmin has trapped on the Indian creek cattle range.

He has lived a secluded life at his lonely cabin in Mormon creek pasture, Jack, a large, grizzly dog, undetermined ancestry, and Old Blue, his faithful horse, being his only companions.

To this time he has caught 2,100 lynx, or bobcats, 6,000 coyotes, 1,500 foxes, 6,000 badgers and elvet cats and numberless crows and small pests. Stockmen whose ranges he has protected consider he has no peer in the West as a trapper.

POOR FEEDING CAUSES UNPROFITABLE DAIRY

One of the chief causes back of unprofitable dairying is the faulty feeding of cows. Dr. W. B. Nevens, assistant chief in dairy cattle feeding at the U. of I. College of Agriculture, says in a revised handbook entitled, "Feeding the Dairy Herd," which the college now has ready for free distribution to interested farmers and dairymen. The aim of the publication, according to the author, is to present and explain in as simple a manner as possible some of the best practices in the feeding of dairy cattle.

In setting up a background for dairy herd feeding practices, Dr. Nevens discusses the uses which the dairy cow makes of her feeds, the principal classes of feed, the importance of knowing the composition of feeds, the similarity between pasture and the ideal ration, the economy of home-grown feeds, the buying of concentrates, ready mixed feeds and the characteristics of feeds. A detailed discussion is then given on feeding dairy cows during the winter, feeding for advanced registry testing, feeding dairy cows during the pasture season, the care of the cow at calving time, feeding dairy heifers, feeding dairy bulls and the grinding and fermenting of feeds.

Except for furnishing too much bulk, spring pastures are an ideal ration for milk production. It is pointed out in the publication. In order to get the best rations for barn feeding the dairymen therefore should duplicate as closely as possible the characteristics which make spring pastures so desirable. Among these characteristics are palatability, digestibility, succulence, physiologic effect, balance and cost.

Under most conditions a dairy herd can be fed more economically on feeds raised on the farm where they are used than it can on purchased feeds. Dr. Nevens points out. Cereal grains and non-legume roughages, however, tend to be low in protein. The dairymen who is planning to grow a part of his feed must consider, therefore, not only differences in the amounts of feed that can be secured from an acre of the crops commonly grown in the corn belt but also differences in the feeding value of the various crops. The new publication is Circular No. 272 and may be obtained by writing the college.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"ANCIENT AND MODERN NECROMANCY, ALIAS MEDIUMISM AND HYPNOTISM, DENOUNCED" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 29.

The Golden Text was from Jeremiah 20:13, "Sing unto the Lord, praise ye the Lord; for he hath delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of evildoers."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters. Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved; for thou art my praise" (Jer. 17:13, 14).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil. 'I find in the panoply of Love, human hatred cannot reach you'" (p. 571).

HAPPENINGS IN OUR NEIGHBORING TOWNS

The Richmond village board ended a controversy of considerable duration last week when they designated the location for the new tank and tower which is to be added to their water works system. It was originally proposed to locate it on the same lot with the well but the engineers advised against this as a fire precaution and a lot on the edge of town formerly used as a dumping ground for city junk was chosen and will be cleaned up.

The right of way committee of the board of supervisors of McHenry county has recently secured rights of ways on Routes 60 and 61, which extend from the Wisconsin state line southerly through Richmond to Ringwood, McHenry, Terra Cotta and connect with route 19 near Crystal Lake. It is planned to lay a 20 foot cement road, ten feet of gravel highway on each side of the cement and use the remaining 20 feet on each side for shoulder and drainage.

The state game and fish department has recently sent a carload of fish to McHenry to be planted in Pistakee Lake. It is estimated that the fish population of the lake will be increased by from one to two million inhabitants. The fish stocked were black bass, cropples and silver bass.

The estates of Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. John W. Scott and many others of the developed estates on the Michigan shore near Lake Forest are to be opened to the public on Saturday and Sunday, May 28th and 29th, for the annual display of flowers on the part of the Garden club.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Frank Dix, Mrs. Arthur Krahn and Mrs. E. Mannings.

The Brass Ball school closed on Friday.

Real Democracy

In the minds of many people, democracy rests upon the colossal untruth that "one man is as good as an other," so that a large number are more likely to be right than a small number. In reality democracy rests upon the ubiquitous fact that all men are directly interested in securing good government, while its successes have often been due to its practical recognition of the truth that some men are born to lead and others to follow.—John Fiske.

Miss Zehra Rotnour
Is Bride of Virgil
Felter of Antioch

The wedding of Miss Zehra Rotnour of Elgin, Illinois, to Virgil Felter of Antioch took place at the home of the bride's parents at Elgin at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The young couple were attended by Miss Dorothy Goodyear of Elgin and John Rotnour, a brother of the bride. Rev. A. M. Kraft performed the ceremony.

Following the wedding dinner at the home of the bride the young couple left by motor for a short honeymoon trip into northern Wisconsin. Soon after their return they expect to move into the new home which Mr. Felter is building at Addison Lane, Lake Catherine in the new Felter subdivision.

The bride is an accomplished and attractive young lady. She is a product of the lake region, having grown up in Richmond and recently moved with her parents to Elgin where she was employed in the offices of the Elgin Watch Works. She is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rotnour of Elgin. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Felter of Antioch. He is a member of the firm of Blir and Felter, decorators.

Will Your Seeds Grow?
Replanting is a waste of time, labor and money

OFTEN seed oats will not germinate after a wet season. It is not wise ever to plant unless you have made a

GERMINATION TEST

It is very easy to do. Take an ordinary white blotter:

1. Crease it with thumb-nail into three equal parts;

2. Wet the blotter;

3. Count 100 seeds, as they come, large and small, into the first space;

4. Fold over the end spaces, covering the seeds;

5. Insert a strip of cotton rag as a wick between folds, allowing end to hang out about 1/2 inch;

6. Cover the blotter in waxed butter paper;

7. Fill a glass with water; hang the wick in the water.

8. Place the test on the top of the glass;

(Note: If 10 of these seeds may be placed on test lumber.)

9. Keep water in glass for four or five days;

10. Open the test and count the sprouts. The number of strong sprouts will give you the percentage of germination.

11. If seeds do not show 94 or 95 strong sprouts a better lot of seed should be obtained.

If seeds are discolored or show much other disease, samples

should be sent to the State Agricultural college, who will put you in touch with good seed, best adapted to your soil and locality.

Junior Class Gives Annual Banquet And
Prom To Graduates

The annual Junior-Senior banquet and prom took place in the new domestic science rooms at the school house last Friday evening. The banquet was prepared by the girls of the class of 1928, assisted by their mothers, and six couples chosen from the ranks of the Sophomore class served.

The room was elaborately decorated with crepe paper festooning in pastel shades and the tables and the chairs were trimmed to correspond.

At the conclusion of the dinner members and their guests listened to a short program of toasts and then retired to the gymnasium where Miller's orchestra of Woodstock furnished music for dancing.

TRUST COMPANIES
RANK NEWSPAPER
ADVERTISING HIGHEST

The outstanding trust institutions of the United States are those that were pioneers in using advertising as a means of selling their services, a speaker told a conference of trust companies held in New York recently. He presented the results of a questionnaire sent out by the Trust Company Division, American Bankers' Association, making an inquiry into the advertising practices of institutions doing a trust business. Three out of every four trust companies and banks engaged in extending trust services were found to be advertising. The opinion was expressed by the speaker that their growth would closely follow the amounts spent each year for advertising.

The local newspaper is the most highly regarded advertising medium, it was disclosed. In all, 929 companies answering the questionnaire used the local papers and 338 did not. The institutions buying space in local papers are evenly divided among all sections of the country. Comparing six media for selling personal trust services and considering their effectiveness from the standpoint of producing results, the speaker declared that the local newspapers should head the list. Folded and booklet can reach a limited audience, he observed, but the newspaper is the best medium for acquiring prestige and mass circulation. It should never be omitted, he urged.

BANKERS HELPING

Three banks in South Carolina have inaugurated a plan to provide free of rent for two years a centrally located place to be used by the farmers of Greenville and neighboring counties for the purpose of establishing a creamery, a canning factory and a farm woman's club. The idea is to get the farmers to raise livestock, to raise their own food and feed and to have something extra to sell. The canning factory is intended to utilize the surplus garden and fruit products, and the club rooms for getting the support and co-operation of the farm women.

Georgia bankers have made great strides in furthering a diversified farming program the past year. They induced farmers to sow fifty-five car loads of rye seed, furnished local prizes in eighty counties for the corn contest, the state prize of $1,000 being furnished by a bank in Atlanta. A banker-farmer alfalfa demonstration was held at the college and attended by 250 bankers and farmers. Alfalfa acreage has increased from 1,800 to 5,000, the demonstration being credited with 50 per cent of this increase. This year the state has produced 12,000,000 more bushels of corn than last year, has sold 50 cars of truck, $2,000,000 worth of pecans, and has produced 150,000,000 pounds of meat and enough corn and hay for its own use.

AS LABOR SEEKS BANKS

Vast sums of money are lost each year by wage-earners through investments hastily entered into. With the confidence of the wage-earners, banks will be enabled to more accurately advise such investors and thus save money which might otherwise be lost by unwise speculation. — William Green, President American Federation of Labor.

Boy's Own Sanctum Found in Attic

© Cenotechnic Institute, Chicago, 1926

A ROOM of his own is every boy's privilege and right—some place where he can keep his own things, work out his own schemes and think his own thoughts, without grown up interference. Not every house in these days of high rents and scarce servants is big enough to have a room for each member of the family and it is of course the children who have to double up. An extra room for the boy may often be provided in the attic at a very slight expense both for materials and furnishings. Most of the work can be done by home talent and the boy will feel that it is his from the very start if he is allowed to have a hand in actually bringing the room into being.

No two attics are alike in size and contour, and individual planning is necessary. Most of them, however, are left with the rafters exposed and the first step is to seal the interior. This is not so much for its appearance as for the sake of warmth in the winter and coolness in the summer. The heat rising from downstairs will practically warm a fair-sized attic if it is not allowed to escape. The chief line of escape is where the rafters meet the side walls and this should be tightly sealed all around with strips of cane fiber insulating lumber, celotex, a material that is admirably suited for remodeling old attics.

Boards of the same lumber are nailed on the under side of the rafters and also form side walls. The joints may be beveled or covered with strips of molding in panel effect. The insulating lumber, untreated, makes an ideal interior finish for this combined playroom-study-workshop. It is light beige in color, does not mar easily and is a splendid background for pinning up the posters, pictures and pennants so dear to a boy's heart. Cubby-holes under the eaves may be lined with the same material and are good for storing fishing tackle, tennis rackets and the like.

Especially suitable for floor covering is linoleum as it can be scrubbed without danger of spoiling the ceiling below. An alternative is to paint the floor a pleasing shade of brown or gray and put down a couple of small rugs, easily washed and taken up.

Heating should not present much of a problem under ordinary circumstances in a well-insulated attic. A small gas or electric heater to take off the chill will often be sufficient where it is not feasible to run up a flue from the central heating plant.

The furnishings should be few, simple and sturdy. "Don'ts" have no place in a boy's own realm, so there should be nothing easily spoiled or broken. An army cot, chest of drawers, and a couple of chairs are the chief articles to be provided. For the rest, the boy can probably make for himself a work table, hanging bookshelves and shelves for trophies and collections of birds' eggs, rocks and the like.

The electric drop cord should be long enough to reach all the strategic parts of the room, with hooks there to hang it on. An unbreakable shade is advisable.

Where the stairs lead right into the center of the room, railings should be built and if the opening is particularly dangerous, a small gate with a catch may avoid broken arms and sprained ankles.

Morning Services at 11 A. M.
Sunday School at 9:45 A. M.
Wednesday evening Testimony meeting at 8 o'clock. A reading room maintained at this address is open Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 8 o'clock.

St. Ignatius' Church Notes

Episcopal
Whitsunday—Kalendar.
9:30 Church School.
10:30 Matins and Sermon.
4:00 Confirmation Class.

Next Sunday we celebrate the birthday of the Christian Church which was formally founded in the upper room at Jerusalem fifty days after the Resurrection of Jesus in 33 A. D. The Church has endured all these years of victory and trial. We are going forward and the gates of hell shall not prevail against us. We fight to the finish with sin, the world, and the devil. God is our Right.

The service hours have been changed to suit the summer season and local circumstances. Fast time is the order of the day now in Antioch. It is hoped that many will take advantage of the summer opportunities to worship Almighty God in a decent and formal way. The church bell rings out 15 minutes before all services to remind you of your bounden duty and service as a Christian.

The Acolytes of the Parish attended the great Acolyte service at the Church of the Atonement in Chicago Wednesday. There were over 500 young men present from all parts of the Diocese.

Payments on the pledges for the spring quarter are now very much overdue. Wm. Osmond is the collector while Mr. Kelly is in Europe. Make all checks payable to "St. Ignatius church."

Methodist Church Notes

The June program of services at the Methodist church will without doubt attract considerable attention. First there is the Annual Children's Day service which comes on June 12. Then there is a special speaker, the Rev. Antonio Parroni of Chicago, who will speak on "Mussolini and the Fascisti" on the evening of June 12. The choir members will put on a pageant on the evening of June 19, entitled "Mile Stones of Life."

The Sunday School are planning a trip around the world via stereoptican, stopping at the principal cities of America, China, Japan, India, and Europe.

The change of time of services caused little inconvenience. In fact the evening service at 8:00 o'clock meets the approval of many.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS

ILLINOIS STATE CAPITAL NEWS

The two-cent gasoline tax, which has the support of Governor Small, has been reported out of the roads committee of the Senate. There is evidence of some opposition to the measure. Senator A. L. McCawley of Carthage, Mo., who was the guest of Senator Norman G. Flagg, Mo., at the session of the roads committee at which the gas measure was under consideration, stated that Missouri has a gasoline tax, and that there seems to be no serious objection to it in that state. Several amendments may be offered, but the indications are that the bill will be passed as suggested by Governor Small, as the plan seems to have been worked out by those who are most interested in the success of the hard road program.

Governor Small's primary election bill was introduced in the Senate by Senator John Joyce, Chicago, and in the house by Representative A. L. Stanfield, Paris, chairman of the elections committee of their respective branches. The bill is designed to provide a primary law on the statute books in case the Supreme Court upholds the decision of the Lee county circuit court which declared the present primary law to be invalid. A final decision will probably be handed down by the Supreme Court the latter part of next month, and in the event that it upholds the decision of the lower court, a special session of the legislature would be necessary in the absence of a new law.

Senator Harold Kessinger's bill to regulate the Chicago board of trade has passed the Senate. This bill would place the board of trade under the control of a commission of three members to be known as the public exchange commission, which shall have power to license members of the board.

A bill compelling poultry dealers to keep a record of poultry purchased, sponsored by Representative Robert Whiteley, Carlinville, has passed the House.

Representative Lottie Holman O'Neill, Downers Grove, introduced a bill to provide free transportation for pupils who live a great distance from school.

Senator Harry Wilson, Pickneyville, introduced a bill to appropriate $17,500 for the construction of a bridge over Kincaid creek, Jackson county.

The state division of highways has let contracts for pavement, bridges and grading as follows:

Route 2, section 518, Macon county, pavement, to Hurden Construction company, Springfield, $9,117.20.

Route 98, Section 110A, Fulton county, grading, to Cameron Joyce & company, Keokuk, $27,644.51.

Route 78, Section 101A, Jo Daviess county, grading, to Gaines Brothers, Union Mo., $107,093.28.

Route 152, Section 104A, bridge, to W. D. Chapman, Vienna, $45,029.46.

Route 152, Section 104B, bridge, to Illinois Steel Bridge company, Jacksonville, $15,278.61.

Route 106, Section 111B, Pike county, bridge, to H. A. Worman, Pittsfield, for $23,111.39, who also was awarded a grading contract on the same route for $22,642.22.

The Senate agricultural committee reported favorably on a bill giving the state department of agriculture authority to proceed with plans to prevent the invasion into the state of the European corn borer.

The House has passed Representative William Weiss' bill appropriating $30,000 for a school of journalism at the University of Illinois.

The House voted down Representative Jacob Marten's bill requiring all county treasurers of the state to advertise for bids from banks for the deposit of county funds.

The Weber bill, prohibiting the searching of automobiles for liquor without a warrant was killed in the House, and a referendum clause was inserted in the O'Grady bill, which had been joined with a similar measure by Representative Weber, Chicago, upon motion of Representative Elmer Schnackenberg, Chicago, when the bill was called for second reading. The O'Grady bill calls for the repeal of the search and seizure and prohibition acts.

The eight hour bill for women, sponsored by Senator Starr, Chicago, was advanced to the order of third reading in the Senate. Representative Lottie Holman O'Neill re-introduced in amended form her bill, which was defeated in the House. The present bill calls for a 48-hour week for women.

Former Governor Hardin of Iowa was a recent guest of the Senate.

The Elgin Cubs, a baseball aggregation with a real live cub for a mascot, invaded Barrington last Sunday. The antics of the bear amused the crowd considerably but failed to impart to the Cubs enough luck to win the game, which they lost to Barrington by a 4 to 3 score.

Attorney General Carlstrom has advanced the opinion that where only one political party has nominated candidates for circuit judge for the June 6 elections, the names of the other parties need not appear on the ballot.

Governor Small signed Senator Rodney D. Swift's bill providing that the city officials under the commission form shall receive $100 a month for services as members of boards of local improvements. The bill carried an emergency clause, and becomes effective at once.

The state of Illinois has presented its final testimony before Master in Chancery Charles G. Briggle in its accounting case against Governor Lenn Small. Governor Small filed a statement of account in which he claimed his books balanced and that he owed the state nothing. The state filed objections, however, claiming that there is still a balance due.

Some very interesting statements concerning lumber consumption in Illinois and reforestation were made by Chief Forester R. H. Miller of the state department of conservation in a lecture on "The Forestry Situation in Illinois." He stated that the average farm of 134 acres uses about 1,250 board feet of lumber per year; railway and interurban lines within the state use 6,000,000 feet every year, most of them made from timber produced in bottomland forests, which when given preservative treatment with creosote can be made to last 15 years or more; 20,000,000 cubic feet are used yearly for mining coal, not taking into consideration that which is used above ground for buildings and other structures.

Mr. Miller stated further that investigations show that our farm woodlands are decreasing at the rate of 4,500 acres a year, while waste land on farms is increasing at the rate of 25,000 acres a year. There is a total of almost 1,500,000 acres of waste lands, mostly on farms, which could be reforested and this would require at a very conservative estimate the production of 15,000,000 seedlings a year to reforest with any degree of speed.

J. S. Miller, Sr., president of the state fair board, has announced the following scale to be used in judging the efforts of contestants in the second Illinois state fair hog-calling contest: volume, 50 per cent; perspicuity, 25 per cent; and melody 25 per cent. This schedule of relative merits was prescribed by the board's chairman in conference with Director S. J. Steward, of the department of agriculture and W. W. Lindley, general manager of the fair. Last year's entrants, in all probability, and added starters will compete. Senator Randolph Boyd Galva, prominent in the feature attraction last season, and Senator Harry Wilson of Pickneyville, medalist in one of the preliminary contests, have expressed their determination to wrest the cup from Champion Guy Bender, winner of the first annual, in the coming renewal.

Prominent among the well-known speakers on the program of the Illinois State Historical Society during its twenty-eighth annual meeting held in the Centennial building auditorium were Mrs. Isaac D. Rawlings, whose subject was "The Polish Exiles in Illinois" and Representative Elbert Waller, Tamaqua, who spoke on "Some Half Forgotten Towns in Illinois." Representative Waller has written a history of the state and is also a well-known lecturer.

Applications have been filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission by the Alton Transportation company, owned by the Chicago and Alton Railroad company, for authority to operate busses between Springfield and Peoria and other points running parallel to the Chicago and Alton railway. The company states that it does not desire to do local business in any of the cities through which the proposed line will operate.

Contracts for approximately 15 miles of pavement on Route 49, have been let by the state highway division.

SOYBEANS SUGGESTED AS EMERGENCY CROP

Will Enable Farmers With Idle Land to Realize Profit on Late Crop

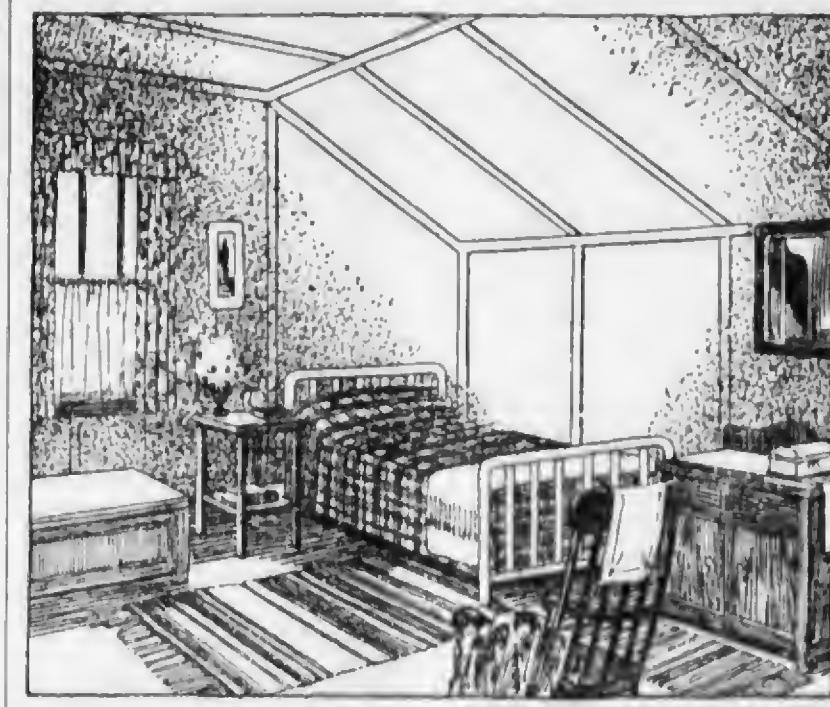

The Agricultural Department of The Antioch High School advises farmers, who have not been able to seed their ground this spring, to plant soybeans. The time to plant soybeans is right after corn planting time.

The beans are a leguminous plant and build up the soil. They can be cut for hay when planted at the rate of 1 bushel per acre broadcast, and left to produce a good yield of beans if planted in rows 28 inches apart at the rate of 28 lbs. per acre. The beans can be ground and make a better oil and protein feed than cottonseed meal or oil meal for dairy cattle. Hogs can be fattened on them also.

Anyone wishing any help in getting started in this new crop, call at the High School. Seed is on hand so that you can get it now. Don't let your fields lie idle. The lower Mississippi valley in the flood district is not producing any crop this year. It will be up to the farmers of the north central states to do their share.

Attic for Maid Solves House Problem

Two New Tracts of Land Subdivided at Lake Villa

Two new tracts of land in the lake region will be opened as summer resort subdivisions soon as the result of the purchase by Chicago realty company of 154 acres within the village of Lake Villa, known as the old Sherwood place, and 465 acres outside, known as the Fowler farm.

Immediate steps will be taken to develop the properties. The place in Lake Villa lies directly south of Cedar lake on the south side of Grand avenue. The Fowler property lies east and southeast of the Lehmann estate, and fronts on Sand and Fourth lakes. The sale price on the Sherwood tract is said to have been $60,000 and the Fowler lands brought about $360 per acre.

Lake Villa Shifts to New Daylight Saving Time

The Village Council of Lake Villa in special session on Friday evening passed an ordinance authorizing the change from standard to daylight saving time. Their action was the outcome of the action previously taken by Antioch and other towns along the North Shore Motor coach lines.

Give Oats a Reputation

We must improve the quality of our oats, for whenever we get quality we also get quantity.

OATS IS A WONDERFUL CROP

WE HAVE never given this grain the credit it deserves, both as a farm necessity and as a money crop.

TWO of the greatest out crops in history have been absorbed at a price at terminal markets ranging as high as 47 cents and seldom below 40 cents a bushel, in spite of the fact that the driving horse in the city has almost passed out and there are not as many in the country.

LABOR is the foremost farm problem. The labor cost of raising corn is many times that of raising oats, and yet corn often sells as low as 75 cents and the yield per acre is not so large as oats.

THE oat crop seldom or never entirely fails. Corn is always a gamble in nearly every locality. There is an unlimited market for choice oats.

GOOD seed is probably the best crop insurance. Too many farmers sow seed from their own bins without regard to its condition. Too often it is full of old seeds or other cereals or may be thin, burned or damp and moldy. It may be light and fluffy. It may have been damaged so that it will not sprout.

Tone in Spade

If the stars being studied by the astro-physics could be weighed actually, instead of by mathematical computation, it would be found that a spade would weigh a ton. The stars are accordingly much denser than the earth. The earth is said to be only about five and a half times as heavy as water.

Cake for Protection

In former times bakers made little paste images with currants stuck in for eyes for their customers at Christmas, says the Dearborn Independent. If this image was kept unbroken, throughout the year the owner would not be injured by fire or water or slain by the sword.

By Lamplight

If a lamp burns badly or smells it is generally due to one of the following causes: It has been filled too full, and the oil when heated expands and runs over the sides. The receiver and burner have not been wiped after filling. The wick does not fit properly. If oil has been badly trimmed, inferior oil has been used. The lamp glasses are not clear and bright.

Stopped Traffic for Duck

Traffic on a busy main road near Bourne, England, was held up for ten minutes while a duck laid an egg. A policeman had halted automobiles when the duck started to waddle across the road. Halfway over she sat down. After she had laid the egg, she continued her journey. The egg was salvaged and the procession of halted cars proceeded.

Old Geographical Titles

The kingdom of the Two Sicilies, former kingdom of Italy, comprised Naples or southern Italy, and the island of Sicily. The name "Kingdom of Naples" was often also used. In the Middle ages the southern part of the Italian mainland came to be known as "Sicily on this side of the Faro" (the strait of Messina).

Emu Being Killed Off

Emu is the name of a bird native to South Africa. It is somewhat similar to the ostrich. It is about six feet in height, of a dark brown color. It is a fleet runner, but weak of wing. Its flesh is prized and its eggs are edible. Its plumage is plentiful and resembles hair. The emu is rapidly becoming extinct.

Great Man Fond of Cats

The illustrious Cardinal Richelieu is shown in one of the best-known portraits pausing in the writing of some great state document to amuse a cat with the feather of his quill pen.
